Qulliq Energy Corporation (QEC) is requesting residents in Rankin Inlet to continue to conserve power to prevent the need for rotating power outages.

QEC now has three of five generator sets in operation. All three engines will be needed to meet the community's electricity demand while the maintenance crew works towards repairing the other generator sets.

QEC will provide further updates through social media and the local radio station.

QEC would like to thank the residents for their cooperation and understanding.
